

THE UNIVERSITY of EDINBURGH
School of Divinity

Livingstone's Legacy

David Livingstone Bicentennial Day Conference
New College, Edinburgh, Saturday 16 March 2013

PROGRAMME

10.00 Welcome and introduction: Professor David Fergusson, Principal of New College

10.15 SESSION 1:

The Legacy of David Livingstone in Africa

Chair: Dr David Reimer, the University of Edinburgh

Keynote lecture (the Duff Missionary Lecture for 2013):

"Dr Livingstone, I presume? The legacy of David Livingstone in church and society",

Right Revd. James Tengatenga, Bishop of Southern Malawi

11.15 Coffee (Rainy Hall)

11.45 SESSION 2:

Livingstone, Science and Christian Belief

Chair: Professor S. Jay Brown, Head of the School of Divinity, the University of Edinburgh

(i) "Lake Malawi, I presume? David Livingstone, maps, and the 'discovery' of Lake Nyassa in 1859", Dr T. Jack Thompson, the University of Edinburgh

(ii) "The missionary and the rainmaker: Enlightenment Scotland encounters Africa", a dramatic presentation with commentary, Professor Brian Stanley and students from the School of Divinity, the University of Edinburgh

1.15 Lunch (Rainy Hall)

2.15 SESSION 3:

Livingstone's Legacy for Scotland and its Links with Africa

Chair: Dr Iain Whyte (President, Scottish Church History Society)

(i) "'...As long as God has work for me to do': the mission and impact of Scottish women in Malawi", Dr Lesley Orr, the University of Edinburgh

(ii) "Livingstone's legacy: Malawi and Scotland - yesterday, today and tomorrow", Dr Ken Ross, Hon. Fellow, School of Divinity, the University of Edinburgh

3.45 Concluding reflections: Dr John Lwanda

4.00 Tea (Rainy Hall) and departure